TAX ORDINANCE PASSED EASILY

Effort to Increase License Tax of Junk Dealers Did Not Succeed.

A special meeting of the Common Council, called by Frederick Peters, president, for the assessment ordinance for the year 1906 was held last night.

The members were "initiated." Mr. W. L. White, of Madison Ward, who was recently elected in place of Mr. Glenn, resigned and Mr. Percy L. Smith, of Marshall Ward, elected in his place. Mr. White, when introduced by Mr. Pollock and welcomed by the council, made a speech full of eloquence and patriotism. He referred to his former six years' service in the body and made an attempt to disguise his pleasure at getting in harness again. He pledged his best service to his ward and the city. He was vigorously applauded. Mr. Smith also made a very brief speech.

The entire session was taken up with consideration of the tax ordinance submitted by the Finance Committee. The new ordinance has many features in it that were not in the ordinance of last year. Many of these changes are seriously objected to by many citizens affected by them, and some of them were on hand in the lobby and on the floor to oppose the same. However, there were really not as many amendments to the ordinance as the Finance Committee had looked for. There were also very few changes made in the Finance Committee's report than expected.

On motion of Mr. Mills, the Ordinance was taken up by sections, each section as should not meet with objection, to be considered adopted without the formality of a vote.

All the sections down to and including the section on the license tax, were read and adopted.
